

Ngā Herenga

This document gives a range of useful information for this course including general information, a course schedule, assessment information and how to get help. Ready to enrol? Take the next step at https://uconline.ac.nz/online-courses/nga-herenga

General Information

Item	Description
Course Length	The course runs over nine weeks (with a one-week study break in the middle of the term), plus a two-week review period for marking and feedback.
Course Description	Ngā Herenga will help you gain foundational knowledge on the history of Aotearoa New Zealand. You will look closely at the connections between the Crown and iwi Māori, and how these relationships have moulded our culture, politics and society. The meaning behind the course name and the te reo Māori words 'Ngā Herenga' is: 'Ngā' indicates plural or more than one of something and 'Herenga' has meanings of obligations, commitments, or ties that bind. Together these words represent the connections between the Crown and Māori and how they are entwined.
Learning Outcomes	<ul> <li>Once you've successfully completed this course, you'll be able to:</li> <li>Describe migrations and settlements of societies within the Pacific.</li> <li>Demonstrate foundational level knowledge of historical texts connected to Aotearoa and the political implications that followed.</li> <li>Examine Aotearoa through a present-day treaty-based lens.</li> <li>Develop basic knowledge of te reo Māori language including words, phrases and greetings.</li> </ul>
Learning Impact	<ul> <li>Achievement of this short course shows you can:</li> <li>Interpret and analyze the significance of Te Tiriti o Waitangi (the Treaty of Waitangi), He Whakaputanga o te Rangatiratanga o Niu Tirene (the Declaration of Independence of New Zealand), and Ngā Pakanga o Aotearoa (the New Zealand Wars) in shaping Aotearoa New Zealand's political landscape and cultural identity.</li> <li>Develop bicultural competency, including the ability to engage effectively with diverse cultures and communities in present-day Aotearoa.</li> <li>Appreciate the value of historical understanding in navigating contemporary societal challenges and contributing to a more inclusive and equitable Aotearoa New Zealand.</li> </ul>
Delivery	This course is 100% online, which means you can log on when it suits you each week to fit learning into your life, so long as you meet assessment deadlines.  You can work through the course content at your own pace, or you can follow our recommended study plan outlined below in the course schedule.

We estimate your engagement will be about six — seven hours a week over the nine learning weeks (excluding the one-week study break).    Qualification experience, or knowledge.  Upon successful completion of the course you will be issued a digital badge to recognise your learning achievements. This can take up to 2 months to be delivered after the marking and feedback period.  Recommended prior learning  Being a short course, there are no specific academic points associated with this course. There are no prerequisites for this course. It's recommended for anyone who wants to explore foundational knowledge on the history of Aotearoa New Zealand, and improve bicultural competence.  Who is this course for?  • Students • Professionals • Anyone interested in learning more about Aotearoa history  Technology Requirements  • We recommend a laptop or desktop computer and a reliable internet connection. • A PDF reader (like Adobe Acrobat Reader DC) to download PDFs with assessment instructions. • Word processing software (like Microsoft Word or Google Docs) to complete your assignments.  How the course works  You'll need to work through this course sequentially. It's divided into three modules that run over 8 weeks. Use the navigation block on the left to move from one module to another. Each module includes the following material: • Specific learning objectives and module introduction. • Topic content using a range of media. • Activities to apply what you've learnt and/or discuss with your peers and facilitator. • A quiz to assess understanding of key concepts. • A list of references used in the module topic content. • A 'temperature check' survey to seek your feedback about your experience as a learner.  You will gain access to the following module only if you complete content in the previous module.  Learning online doesn't mean learning alone. Our courses have been designed to enable a cohort community so you can learn and grow from each other's experience. We also have a facilitator for each course who is there to offer support as you work through your learning, in addition to our Enrolment Advice and Online Learning Support teams.  Assessment  To receive a passin	·
There are no prerequisites for this course. It's recommended for anyone who wants to explore foundational knowledge on the history of Aotearoa New Zealand, and improve bicultural competence.  Who is this course for?  Students Professionals Anyone interested in learning more about Aotearoa history  We recommend a laptop or desktop computer and a reliable internet connection. A PDF reader (like Adobe Acrobat Reader DC) to download PDFs with assessment instructions. Word processing software (like Microsoft Word or Google Docs) to complete your assignments.  Wow the course works  You'll need to work through this course sequentially. It's divided into three modules that run over 8 weeks. Use the navigation block on the left to move from one module to another. Each module includes the following material: Specific learning objectives and module introduction. Topic content using a range of media. Activities to apply what you've learnt and/or discuss with your peers and facilitator. A quiz to assess understanding of key concepts. A list of references used in the module topic content. A 'temperature check' survey to seek your feedback about your experience as a learner. You will gain access to the following module only if you complete content in the previous module.  Learning online doesn't mean learning alone. Our courses have been designed to enable a cohort community so you can learn and grow from each other's experience. We also have a facilitator for each course who is there to offer support as you work through your learning, in addition to our Enrolment Advice and Online Learning Support teams.  Assessment  To receive a passing grade for this course, you need to have attempted all activities and to have received an overall grade of at least 50%. For more details see the	Qualification	experience, or knowledge.  Upon successful completion of the course you will be issued a digital badge to recognise your learning achievements. This can take up to 2 months to be delivered explore foundational knowledge on the history of Aotearoa New Zealand, and improve bicultural competence.  Who is this course for?  Students  Professionals  Anyone interested in learning more about Aotearoa history  We recommend a laptop or desktop computer and a reliable internet connection.  A PDF reader (like Adobe Acrobat Reader DC) to download PDFs with assessment instructions.  Word processing software (like Microsoft Word or Google Docs) to complete your assignments.  How the course works  You'll need to work through this course sequentially. It's divided into three modules that run over 8 weeks. Use the navigation block on the left to move from one module to another. Each module includes the following material:  Specific learning objectives and module introduction.  Topic content using a range of media.  Activities to apply what you've learnt and/or discuss with your peers and facilitator.  A quiz to assess understanding of key concepts.  A list of references used in the module topic content.  A 'temperature check' survey to seek your feedback about your experience as a learner.  You will gain access to the following module only if you complete content in the previous module.  Learning online doesn't mean learning alone. Our courses have been designed to enable a cohort community so you can learn and grow from each other's experience. We also have a facilitator for each course who is there to offer support as you work through your learning, in addition to our Enrolment Advice and Online Learning Support teams.  Assessment  To receive a passing grade for this course, you need to have attempted all activities and to have received an overall grade of at least 50%. For more details see the	Academic points	Being a short course, there are no specific academic points associated with this cour Professionals Anyone interested in learning more about Aotearoa history  We recommend a laptop or desktop computer and a reliable internet connection. APDF reader (like Adobe Acrobat Reader DC) to download PDFs with assessment instructions. Word processing software (like Microsoft Word or Google Docs) to complete your assignments.  Word processing software (like Microsoft Word or Google Docs) to complete your assignments.  You'll need to work through this course sequentially. It's divided into three modules that run over 8 weeks. Use the navigation block on the left to move from one module to another. Each module includes the following material: Specific learning objectives and module introduction. Topic content using a range of media. Activities to apply what you've learnt and/or discuss with your peers and facilitator. A quiz to assess understanding of key concepts. A list of references used in the module topic content. A 'temperature check' survey to seek your feedback about your experience as a learner. You will gain access to the following module only if you complete content in the previous module.  Learning online doesn't mean learning alone. Our courses have been designed to enable a cohort community so you can learn and grow from each other's experience. We also have a facilitator for each course who is there to offer support as you work through your learning, in addition to our Enrolment Advice and Online Learning Support teams.  Assessment To receive a passing grade for this course, you need to have attempted all activities and to have received an overall grade of at least 50%. For more details see the	·	explore foundational knowledge on the history of Aotearoa New Zealand, and improve connection.  A PDF reader (like Adobe Acrobat Reader DC) to download PDFs with assessment instructions.  Word processing software (like Microsoft Word or Google Docs) to complete your assignments.  Wou'll need to work through this course sequentially. It's divided into three modules that run over 8 weeks. Use the navigation block on the left to move from one module to another. Each module includes the following material:  Specific learning objectives and module introduction.  Topic content using a range of media.  Activities to apply what you've learnt and/or discuss with your peers and facilitator.  A quiz to assess understanding of key concepts.  A list of references used in the module topic content.  A 'temperature check' survey to seek your feedback about your experience as a learner.  You will gain access to the following module only if you complete content in the previous module.  Learning online doesn't mean learning alone. Our courses have been designed to enable a cohort community so you can learn and grow from each other's experience. We also have a facilitator for each course who is there to offer support as you work through your learning, in addition to our Enrolment Advice and Online Learning Support teams.  Assessment  To receive a passing grade for this course, you need to have attempted all activities and to have received an overall grade of at least 50%. For more details see the	Who is this course for?	• Professionals that run over 8 weeks. Use the navigation block on the left to move from one module to another. Each module includes the following material:  • Specific learning objectives and module introduction.  • Topic content using a range of media.  • Activities to apply what you've learnt and/or discuss with your peers and facilitator.  • A quiz to assess understanding of key concepts.  • A list of references used in the module topic content.  • A 'temperature check' survey to seek your feedback about your experience as a learner.  You will gain access to the following module only if you complete content in the previous module.  Learning online doesn't mean learning alone. Our courses have been designed to enable a cohort community so you can learn and grow from each other's experience. We also have a facilitator for each course who is there to offer support as you work through your learning, in addition to our Enrolment Advice and Online Learning Support teams.  Assessment  To receive a passing grade for this course, you need to have attempted all activities and to have received an overall grade of at least 50%. For more details see the		<ul> <li>connection.</li> <li>A PDF reader (like Adobe Acrobat Reader DC) to download PDFs with assessment instructions.</li> <li>Word processing software (like Microsoft Word or Google Docs) to complete</li> </ul>
A 'temperature check' survey to seek your feedback about your experience as a learner.  You will gain access to the following module only if you complete content in the previous module.  Learning online doesn't mean learning alone. Our courses have been designed to enable a cohort community so you can learn and grow from each other's experience. We also have a facilitator for each course who is there to offer support as you work through your learning, in addition to our Enrolment Advice and Online Learning Support teams.  Assessment  To receive a passing grade for this course, you need to have attempted all activities and to have received an overall grade of at least 50%. For more details see the	How the course works	<ul> <li>that run over 8 weeks. Use the navigation block on the left to move from one module to another. Each module includes the following material:</li> <li>Specific learning objectives and module introduction.</li> <li>Topic content using a range of media.</li> <li>Activities to apply what you've learnt and/or discuss with your peers and facilitator.</li> </ul>
A 'temperature check' survey to seek your feedback about your experience as a learner.  You will gain access to the following module only if you complete content in the previous module.  Learning online doesn't mean learning alone. Our courses have been designed to enable a cohort community so you can learn and grow from each other's experience. We also have a facilitator for each course who is there to offer support as you work through your learning, in addition to our Enrolment Advice and Online Learning Support teams.  Assessment  To receive a passing grade for this course, you need to have attempted all activities and to have received an overall grade of at least 50%. For more details see the		A list of references used in the module topic content.
Learning online doesn't mean learning alone. Our courses have been designed to enable a cohort community so you can learn and grow from each other's experience.  We also have a facilitator for each course who is there to offer support as you work through your learning, in addition to our Enrolment Advice and Online Learning Support teams.  Assessment  To receive a passing grade for this course, you need to have attempted all activities and to have received an overall grade of at least 50%. For more details see the		a learner.
and to have received an overall grade of at least 50%. For more details see the		Learning online doesn't mean learning alone. Our courses have been designed to enable a cohort community so you can learn and grow from each other's experience. We also have a facilitator for each course who is there to offer support as you work through your learning, in addition to our Enrolment Advice and Online Learning
	Assessment	and to have received an overall grade of at least 50%. For more details see the

Pricing	Domestic learners: $378 incl. GST where applicable International learners: $804 incl. GST where applicable
	Note: Pricing is subject to change, please check our website for the most up-to-date fees. GST is only applicable for learners living in New Zealand during their study.
	<ul> <li>Group discounts: get your colleagues together to take advantages of our group discounts. Enquire now at partnerships@uconline.ac.nz.</li> <li>10% for 3 – 6 learners</li> <li>15% for 7+ learners</li> </ul>

Course schedule

Week	Module	Assessment
0-1	Getting started
	About this course
	Introduction
2-3	Module 1	Module 1 quiz
4/6	Module 2	Module 2 quiz
5	Study break
7-8	Module 3	Module 3 quiz
9	Conclusion	Final assessment

Assessment

There are 4 assessments in this course:

Assessment	Name	Weight	Due date	Feedback
1	Module 1 quiz	20%	End of week 9	A grade is calculated and shown after attempt is submitted.
2	Module 2 quiz	20%	End of week 9	A grade is calculated and shown after attempt is submitted.
3	Module 3 quiz	20%	End of week 9	A grade is calculated and shown after attempt is submitted.
4	Final written assessment	40%	End of week 9	Grade and written feedback from facilitator within a week from the due date.

Your course total grade is calculated based on the weighting of each assessment. To pass the course you need a course total of over 50 out of 100.

You may attempt each assessment up to two times. You do not need a passing grade for every single assessment, but you do need to engage with/complete all assessments.

You will find more information about each assessment, including instructions and submission links in the Tuihono UC | UC Online course (use the navigation block on the left to access the Assessment section).

How to get help

- For general help on how to use the Tuihono UC | UC Online learning environment, select Help at the top of the course screen.
- If you can't find the answer that you are looking for, please email our Learner Support team: support@uconline.ac.nz